Rob. White tossed up a few for the batting practice. That he is hard as nails. He can stand all the work given him and then ask for more.

And "Judge" was on hand. Yes, sir, he was there with his bells on, and he played a great game. Remarkable that he thought he was in better good than that Roy Cooper, of the Orville club, after a year with the locals. He is a youngster, twenty-three years old, five feet eleven inches in height and weighs about 150 pounds. He has played semi-professional ball around his home town since 1902, and has a enviable record.

St. Louis Gets Meeting. Mobile, Ala., February 24.—St. Louis, Mo., was selected as the place for next year's meeting of the convention of the department of superintendence, National Educational Association, at to-day's session of that body.

BOWLING TOURNEY BEGINS IN BUFFALO

More Than 5,000 Bowlers Will Compete for $25,000 in Prizes—Cities Will Send Representative Teams to Lake City—Greatest Event of Its Kind.

Buffalo, N. Y., February 24.—The bowling world has shifted its gaze from St. Louis, where the annual tournament of the American Bowling Congress recently closed, to this city, which will be the scene of the fifth international tournament of the National Bowling Association. The tournament will open on Saturday, February 25, in Convention Hall, and continue to March 18, while the convention will be held on the latter date.

Although the National Bowling Association is essentially an Eastern organization, the central location of Buffalo has attracted a large number of entries from the Middle West and from Canada. The most prominent bowlers in the country will compete, and the promoters are confident of seeing some new world's records established.

The entries include nearly 400 five-man teams, 800 two-man teams and 1,500 individuals, while the cash prizes to be distributed range from $20,000 to $25,000.

New York City Wants Honors. New York City will send a big representation, and feels confident of carrying off the larger share of the purse, as it did in the Baltimore tournament in 1909. In this meet the Chalmers team, of Detroit, Mich., won the five-man team event, with a total score of 2,917, with the Cornthians, No. 6, of New York, second, with a total score of 2,874, and the Brunswicks, of New York, third, and Yonkers, N. Y., fourth.

First honors in the two-man event were captured by Burdine-Eckstein, of Washington, D. C., with a score of 1,306, Kramer-Prig, of Brooklyn, finishing second, with 1,264, and Krichthon-Lendbetter, of Baltimore, third, with 1,242.

Individual honors were won by Tony Prig, of Brooklyn, with a score of 705 for three games. This established the world's record in this event, established in 1908.

Jimmy Smith, of Buffalo, had the highest individual average in all events, his score being 1,519, which is forty-two below the world's record, established by Thomas Halsey, of Detroit, Mich., at the American Bowling Congress tournament in Detroit in 1910. Smith is one of the active workers in the Buffalo tournament.

VIRGINIA WINS HARD GAME FROM CAROLINA

Experience and Weight Prove Too Strong for Nerve and Aggressiveness, Final Score Being 18 to 15.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Chapel Hill, N. C., February 24.—In a game of basketball that was well up to the standard of the Virginia-Carolina athletic contests for the degree of courage and the amount of fighting spirit, Virginia won 18 to 15. The first half ended with the score tied, 9 to 9.

From the first throw the game was as fierce as the annual football contests. Playing under the intercollegiate rules, Virginia's play featured dribbling. Carolina has played under the Y. M. C. A. rules up to date, and was inexperienced in this department of the game. The play started with a rough scrimmage, which lasted four minutes without a basket, the first score going to Virginia, thrown by Hanes.

Virginia was heavier and more experienced. Carolina was nervous and fought all the time. The feeling is that the varsity has won its spurs tonight. Long worked in place of Duls, who was injured in the Wake Forest game. The line-up:

HIDE AND SEEK AMID FIRE

Frantic Mother Has to Find Concealed Child to Save Her. Boston, February 24.—Playing hide and seek in her home while a brisk fire was in progress in other rooms, Isabel Wade, four years old, caused her mother to rush through the flames to save her.

"You can't find me!" she shouted when her mother called her, and hid behind the portieres in the parlor. Mrs. Wade did not hear until the fire ate its way into the room.

When the frantic mother seized the child and carried it to the street Isabel clapped her hands and exclaimed: "You couldn't find me for a long time, could you, mamma?"

PROBLEM IS NOW UP TO DAWSON

He May Choose Provisional Head of Reunited Honduras.

Puerto Cortes, Honduras, February 24.—General Manuel Bonilla, the leader of the revolutionary movement, has withdrawn formally as a candidate for the provisional presidency of Honduras, and there is promise of an early agreement with the government.

The choice of a temporary successor to President Davila may be forced upon Thomas C. Dawson, the special representative of the United States at the peace conference.

Progress of Negotiations. Negotiations between the factions were resumed on board the American cruiser Tacoma yesterday. General Maximo B. Rosales represents President Davila and Dr. Alberto Membrillo is looking after the interests of Bonilla. Mr. Dawson is acting as adviser and mediator.

When the session opened Dr. Membrillo received a telegram from Bonilla in which the revolutionary chief announced his withdrawal of his candidacy for provisional president. In order, he said, to promote peace and facilitate the work of the conference. He suggested for consideration as a temporary occupant of the presidency the names of Dr. Membrillo, Faust Davila, a step-brother of the president, and Francisco Bertrand.

On the other hand, General Rosales advanced the names of Antonio Lacle Arizaga, Daniel Fortin and Sator Corcova as men any one of whom would be acceptable to the government faction.

Dawson May Choose. Neither list was acceptable to the opposing forces, and General Rosales then suggested that Mr. Dawson select a president from the six candidates named.

Dr. Membrillo replied that the revolutionary party was glad to have the American commissioner choose a man if an agreement between them was impossible. The conference continued, however, an effort to agree between themselves.
